Speaker: Robin Ganahl
Organizer with Climate Action Campaign

Topic: Robin will speak on Climate Action Campaign’s work in San Diego and Orange counties to address the Climate Crisis through building community support for local policy change. She will discuss policies like Community Choice Energy that can be implemented today as a local action to address our urgent need for sustainability and how community members can help move those policies forward.

Speaker Bio:
Robin Ganahl is the OC Organizer for the nonprofit Climate Action Campaign (CAC). Their mission is to stop climate change by building community support for local policy action. CAC’s groundbreaking work has secured 100% clean energy by 2035 commitments from six cities in the San Diego region and has led the charge for Community Choice Energy. Robin previously worked in New York City, San Francisco, Kansas City and Washington, DC as an environmental and historic preservation engineer and IT project manager.
